HAWAII

EXPERIENCES YOU'LL LOVE

The best part of any journey is the experiences you have along the way, leaving you with memories to relive long after the holiday is over.

Hawaii has countless amazing things to see and do. Here are some of our favourites to inspire your wanderlust.

SNORKELLING

With 1,900 kilometres of coral reef fringing the islands, Hawaii is a snorkeller's paradise. Snorkel in the crystal clear waters of O'ahu's Hanauma Bay and be rewarded with an abundance of tropical fish. Off the coast of Maui, Molokini Crater was once a volcano and is now home to a kaleidoscope of fish. At Tunnels Beach on Kaua'i, snorkellers will enjoy the amazing coral and marine life while divers can explore the underwater tunnels and lava tubes. On the Island of Hawaii, the gentle waters of Kealahou Bay are home to schools of fish and, on occasion, Spinner dolphins.

WONDERFUL WAIKIKI

Famous Waikiki Beach is the place to be. Relax on the warm Waikiki sands, soak up the sun and cool off with a dip in the welcoming waters. Learn to surf on the gentle waves or paddle out on an outrigger canoe. Stroll along Kalakaua Avenue where you'll find world-class shopping, dining and entertainment options. For the adventurous, hike the 1.3 kilometre trail to the summit of Diamond Head for stunning views of Waikiki. Take a snap with the Duke Kahanamoku statue, he was known as the 'father of modern surfing'. End each day with a refreshing Mai Tai.

TV & MOVIE LOCATIONS

The islands of Hawaii have been the backdrop to many movies and TV shows. From blockbuster films 50 First Dates and Blue Hawaii to iconic TV shows Magnum P.I. and Hawaii Five-0, Hawaii's white beaches, lush jungles and stunning coastlines have been on show. The unofficial 'backlot of Hawaii' Kualoa Ranch on O'ahu is host to many films. See the boneyard from Kong: Skull Island, the infamous fallen tree in Jurassic Park and Hurley's golf course from LOST. In Honolulu visit the Hawaii Five-0 headquarters, Ali'i Olani Hale. On Kaua'i Wailua Falls may look familiar from the opening credits of Fantasy Island.

Hawaii

HAWAII VOLCANOES NATIONAL PARK

Hawaii Volcanoes National Park, on the Island of Hawaii, delivers some of Mother Nature's most awe-inspiring wonders. Travel along Crater Rim Drive which circles Kilauea Caldera and see steam vents and sulphur banks. Walk one of the park's many hiking trails and discover craters, scalded deserts, rainforests and petroglyphs. For a different view, take a helicopter flight over the national park. See the enormity of this otherworldly landscape and the effects of the recent eruptions.

HALEAKALA NATIONAL PARK

Feel the power of nature at Haleakala National Park on Maui. This dormant volcano's summit, at 3,055 metres above sea level, is the stage for breathtaking land and skylines. Wake up early and head to the Visitor Center to catch the sunrise. Watch the sun peek over the horizon and the sky light up with colour over a sea of clouds. Once the sun is up take in the Mars-like landscape. Hiking trails and horseback riding is available, so you can explore the park's natural beauty. For the night owls, watch the sun set or try stargazing.
